

LONGER TIME ASKED
BY DEBTOR NATIONS

Want Limit Taken Off of
Period in Which to Pay
Defaulted Interest.

Special Dispatch to THE SUN AND NEW YORK
HERALD.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Information has reached the House Ways and Means Committee, now considering the question of funding the interest on the war loans of the United States to the Allies, that these debtor nations are informally urging the Treasury to recommend to Congress the rebate of all interest until the foreign financial situation becomes so improved that payments can be met as they come due.

This proposal is being put forth in place of the plan to which the Treasury department has already agreed, that of funding this interest for periods of one to three years.

Such suggestions are meeting with little favor in the House committee, the view being that this would only delay the return of normal conditions in Europe because it would cause the nations to rely further on this country instead of getting down to work. Funding interest until the nations can pay is sufficient liberality, it is held.

The Allies, however, are now pressing the point that the United States should not compound the funded interest or in other words compel these nations to pay interest on defaulted interest. Both suggestions go against the good business judgment of the House committee, but the latter suggestion is now receiving serious consideration.

The interest upon the interest the first year would amount to about $25,000,000 and would pile up rapidly as the interest payments were defaulted.

HELD IN RUTH KING CASE.

Domestic Denies He Kidnapped
Child "He Loves."

Samuel Bonesteel, of 552 Prospect place, Brooklyn, was arraigned in the County Court in that borough yesterday and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with the kidnapping of Ruth King, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard King of 5422 Fourth avenue. Judge May held the defendant in $2,000 bail to await trial Bonesteel furnished bonds. Bonesteel was extradited from Jersey City, where he was discovered with the child shortly after he took her from her home.

"Baby Sam" as Bonesteel was called by Ruth King, told Judge May that he loved the little girl and took good care of her. "I would rather die than give up Ruth," he said.

Bonesteel asserted that the child was given to him four years ago by the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, and that Justice Kelly at that time told him she was to be his until the court ordered otherwise.

SWEET IS READY TO SUPPORT FRIEDSAM

Speaker Seeks to Show His Power in Regent Fight.

In spite of the fact that the New York county organization has endorsed the candidacy of William Bondy for State Regent to succeed Judge Abram I. Elkus it is said that Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet is ready to throw the entire support of his up-State machine to Michael Friedsam, head of R. Altman & Co. The Speaker, according to advices received here, is seeking to show his power over the local organization because of the opposition here to his action in suspending the five Socialist Assemblymen. Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the county committee, said last night he understood that Assemblyman Ned B. Fox of the Seventh District and Assemblyman Oscar J. Smith of the Twenty-second had promised to support Mr. Friedsam, refusing to be bound by the action of the county executive committee.

Soldiers Clear Red Bank of Snow.

Fifty soldiers from Camp Vail were turned loose on the snow piles in Red Bank, N. J., yesterday by arrangement of Red Cross and civic authorities with Col. George W. Helm, the camp commander. The men cleared the entire business district before sundown, also "chow" prepared by army cooks and boarded trucks back to camp. Apparently they had no complaint as to swapping guns for snow shovels.
